

By e-mail from Harvey Goldblatt, Chairman of the Slavic Languages & Literatures Department at Yale, Master of Pierson College

Date: Tue, 30 Sep 2003 10:19:36 -0700
From: Harvey Goldblatt <harvey.goldblatt@yale.edu>
Subject: Re: YRC

The Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures offers its warmest congratulations to the Yale Russian Chorus on the occasion of its fiftieth anniversary and recalls with particular fondness its many associations with the Chorus over the years. Indeed, it is fair to say that, in many respects, the Yale Russian Chorus can be viewed as an offshoot of the Slavic Department and its Russian language program, for it grew out of the Russian Club that had been established by members of the Department. For the past fifty years, the Yale Russian Chorus truly has enriched our knowledge of Russian culture and made its glorious music accessible to all parts of the Yale family.

MNOGAYA LETA! - MANY YEARS!